VOL. 14, NUMBER 124 MONESSEN, PA, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1915 SIX CENTS THE WEEK

The live merchant appreciates the fact that he's in the heighth of the fall season and he's throwing a few extra dollars in his campaign of publicity. The dead merchant doesn't know he's living.

Thirty Thousand Population For Monessen In 1916

Thirty thousand people for the borough of Monessen with the approach of the year 1916 is our slogan. This ambition is not too high either, considering the fact that we have more than 21,000 now according to the estimated census of 1915 and that council has plans well under way for the annexation of East Monessen, including the Manown plan of lots, the Domestic Fuel plan, the Grandview plan and Wireton. This added territory will give the town at least 30,000 people. ....

The papers are all prepared and in the hands of the committee of council with Dr. W. D. Hunter chairman, and are being liberally signed. When 51 per cent. of the population and the same amount of the assessed valuation is represented on the petitions, the council will proceed with the formalities of the annexation. This extension will give us at least three additional wards with added voting precincts.

The matter was brought to the attention of council at a recent meeting by Frank Bumer, one of the representatives of the First ward, who urged immediate action for the advancement of the town. The object in pushing the movement at this time is to get the property values adjusted at the tri-ennial assessment period which is this year. If the plans materialize, arrangements will be made for improvements next summer that will mean thousands of dollars to the taxpayers and that will go a long way toward making Monessen one of the most up-to-date towns in western Pennsylvania. Two or three streets will be paved to the new borough line and the town's sewer system will be extended.

Park and playground extensions will be planned to take care of the future needs of the community regardless of how great the population becomes.

Frank Bumer is one of the present members of council whose term did not expire and he is spending considerable time on the project. Dr. Hunter, the chairman of the committee, was re-elected for an additional term of four years and the committee will likely be strengthened with the organization of the new council January first. If everything works out as planned, a bond issue will be asked for the coming year to carry on the great projects now outlined. Monessen expects to go forward by leaps and bounds and with the added improvements will come an impetus to commercial and industrial activity.

Maccabee Rally

A great rally of the Maccabee Association was held yesterday at Donora. There were members present from Uniontown to Pittsburgh. In the afternoon Donora Review exemplified the Draping of the Charter in memorial for the dead sisters. At 6 o'clock the Lutheran Ladies Aid furnished a roast beef supper. The evening session opened with the initiation of candidates. Monessen Review gave the hospital Display Drill in nurses uniform, after which Brownsville Review gave the Snowball drill Addresse were given by Miss Nellie E. Lounsberry of Warren, Pa., who is state commander of Pennsyvania and Miss Mary T. Hardwick of Uniontown, who is deputy of this district.

Small Majority

Judge McConnell won his contest over George B. Shaw by 874 votes. The total vote polled for McConnell was 15,802 and for Shaw 14,928. Dr. A. D. Miller has 2,000 votes over George H. Rosenberry in the contest for treasurer. W. Dick Reamer defeated Herman Hamel by 1,380 votes and John P Kilgore defeated Shields by 2,000. Berkey Boyd was high man in the commissioner fight with George Deeds 275 votes behind. The suffrage amendement carried Westmoreland county by 800 votes.

Fire Truck Arrives

The new Seagrave fire truck has arrived and is at the station ready to be transferred to its present home in the borough building For once our Volunteer firemen have a conveyance with which to reach fires of which they can be proud. Monessen is proud of the Volunteer Fire department and well it should be for considering the meager support given this band of willing workers, they have always done well in their work and have prevented many serious conflagrations. The new truck will give them renewed ambition to excel

Benefit Play

Since the announcement in the local papers that James S Russell, chief clerk at the Pittsburgh Steel company with Mrs. Russell and local talent would put on a real play at the auditorium of the new High school building one week from tonight, expectation has run high with everybody to be "Facing the Music." This is the name of what is said to be one of the most interesting and catchy little plays staged in local circles lately.

It will be given also the night before in Charleroi and is being played in both places for the benefit of the local hospital. There are ten people in the cast, about half from Charleroi and half from this side of the river.

Tickets were placed on sale by the Monessen Auxiliary Wednesday and are going very rapidly. A number of the mill men are assisting their wives greatly in disposing of the little pasteboards, as everybody wants to see Chief Clerk Russell and his players in action.

Great anxiety is expressed as to the exact nature of the play "Facing the Music," but judging from what can be gathered and is suggested by the combination of words, it must be a farce comedy with lots of action. Rehearsals are being held three times a week privately and nobody will know what a treat is in store without purchasing one of the 25 cent tickets or tickets with reserved seat and actually "Facing the Music.'

W. O Williams, better known as "Red" Williams also is in the cast, as well as Miss Amelia Patrick and Hugh Smythe of this place.

Concert Tonight

This evening in the new High school auditorium, the Louhi band under the direction of George E. Wahlstrom will give a concert, the proceeds of which will be devoted to the public school library. A program of ten numbers has been arranged for the occasion and includes several solos by Miss Helena Baschcopf, soprano at the Carnegie Music Hall of Pittsburgh The first number will be rendered promptly at 8 o'clock

Against Suffrage

That far famed coal town on the Youghiogheny, Fitz Henry, has done gone and turned the women down, defeating the suffrage movement by 22 to 17. In the god old days Fitz Henry gave woman about everything she wanted, but of recent years she has been drifting into a state of lethargy and seems to be traveling backward. ## The Best of Opportunity

"The whole trouble is," complained a young fellow the other day, "opportunity never knocks at my door. If I only had a chance I wouldn't kick, but luck's all against me" How often have you heard words just such as these? When opportunity knocked at that young man's door there was "nobody home." His ears were deafened by discontent instead of wide open to the voice of ambition He didn't realize that the rise of the sun every day heralded a new opportunity—the opportunity of precious time. He was too busy whining about "luck"—too busy fretting because instant success wasn't placed right on his lap. He didn't know that when the one big chance came he would be unprepared because he had not heard opportunity's persistent whisper: "Save yourself, save your money."

When he saw others rise in the ranks, he only pointed to them and said "See, they're lucky." Young men, do you agree with him, Or are you prepared for the big opportunity? Have you saved your health, your character and your money to be ready? Your chance is today. The men who lead the world in science, in business, in production, are the men who make each minute count. And remember this: They did not reach their goal because chance led them to it or because they were lucky. They fought for it every inch of the way. And the greater their fight, the greater was their victory. Every tick of the clock is the clarion of opportunity. Don't wait until it's too late. Take the mufflers of laziness, indifference, discontent for your ears and open them wide to the message. Make this minute count,

The Park Proposition

In today's issue of this paper, appears a proposition from the East Side Land company to the borough council for the taking over of the two tracts of land designated as public parks. We publish this proposition so that the taxpayers and citizens of the town generally can familiarize themselves with its provisions and its binding contents.

The Parks committee of council has the proposition under consideration and at a later meeting, a recommendation will be made, either for the acceptance or rejection of the offer. This issue is too big, complicated and expensive for a single committee of three to handle and we hardly believe they want the responsibility. Therefore we urge the people generally to read carefully the conditions that must be met under such an agreement and assist the council in disposing of the issue to the best interests of all the people

EIGHTEENTH INSTALLMENT

CHAPTER LXIV.

Sachio and Michael.

The two rival capitals of these mooted lands still faced one another in a conflict as yet undecided Which were deeper in duplicity it had been difficult to say, but as to which surpassed in active measures no doubt at all remained. Count Sachio, restless and energetic, already was taking further steps to enforce his own will and that of his sovereign upon the weaker mind which purported to govern at Gretzhoffen.

It was as Sachio had prophesied—the sloth of Michael left him open to any proposition which came couched in fair words and which offered no disturbing changes in his own personal plans. He acceded readily enough to the proposals of the Grahoffen courtier to lengthen the armistice between the two warring countries with a view to a formal and final peace. Readily enough also he admitted into his own household the archplotter of the forces of his hereditary enemy.

Unopposed, indeed invited, Sachio made his way much as he liked throughout the Gretzhoffen palace, with whose interior he already was more or less familiar It was his plan in case of any challenge to refer to the royal ruler who was his host.

He paid special attention to that apartment where he had found the partially destroyed original script whose missing half he sought. Here, minutely, patiently, like a hound running a difficult trail, he went over the place inch by inch, seeking to find some trace which would lead him to his quarry.

But success did not attend his efforts, though these he prosecuted even in those portions of the palace where so recently he and his troops had faced death when the levels were flooded by waters turned in from the castle moats He was willing to despair, and in fact had turned away with the intention of giving up the search, when he met a subofficer of the guard who proved difficult to handle in his usual easy fashion.

"Halt! Who goes there?" challenged this guard as he saw Sachio emerge from one of the lower chambers.

"A friend!" rejoined Sachio promptly, in military formula.

"Advance, friend, and give the countersign!" came the gruff command.

"The countersign?" said Sachio "Ah, well, my friend, now that I think of it, I have not had it given to me 'Twas my own neglect But I am a friend of the king—'twas he who gave me permission to explore these portions of the palace I was curious to see the operations of this system of defense by water—it was something new to me"

"That is all very well," rejoined the soldier, "but explanations of that sort are scarcely good enough."

"Take me, then, to the king himself," said Sachio.

"Why should I?" rejoined the other "What business is it of yours to know about the lower levels of our palace? These are ticklish times, and there have been such things as spies."

"Spies!" exclaimed Sachio, virtuously. 'I, a spy—is that what you mean fellow? If so, I command you to carry me forthwith to the presence of the king himself. He knows me well, and you should have a care not to offend one who is under the king's protection"

The sheer audacity of this intruder had its effect, even upon the blunt soldier who had accosted him Sachio was indeed taken to the presence of Michael, and there his bold prediction proved true—Michael reprimanded publicly the officer who had done his duty, and showed his public favor to the man who was indeed a spy, although not suspected of being one.

"What, fellow?" exclaimed the king to the soldier, when Sachio had made his explanations—"what do you mean by offering indignity to our friend and future ally in this fashion? Away with you, and do you report at the guardhouse under arrest. Your trial shall come later."

"My dear Sachio," resumed Michael, "you see how prompt we are with our protection of our friends? Do not take it ill of us that one of our underlings has done what his superior officers or his sovereign would never think of countenancing. We trust you will accept this disclaimer."

"It was nothing, your majesty," replied the wily statesman, "and I assure your majesty the incident shall not linger in my memory. May we perhaps venture to drown in a bumper to your majesty's good health all thought of this misunderstanding? I will drink to the health of Michael and the prosperity of his kingdom."

"Quite agreeable!" exclaimed Michael; "and let us follow that with another to the final and peaceful conclusion of that unhappy misunderstanding which has heretofore divided these two kingdoms."

They drank The befuddled friends of Michael joined them in hilarity if not intelligent, at least vociferous.

"But, my good Sachio," resumed Michael after a time, "let me ask you a question. Yours was ever a keen eye for beauty, and a good scent on the trail of beauty itself. Tell me, then what became of that beautiful young American who so lately was with us—and who, if you will allow me to say it, had so much to do with the late repulse of your forces? I have not seen her since that time—nor, now that I recall it, have I seen her friend, Count Frederick. They have been gone some days or hours. I cannot tell which measures their absence, whether clock or calendar, but I know she is not here, for every room of the palace has been searched for her, and she is not found."

"Your majesty," rejoined Sachio, "it is astonishing how a keen brain like your own can guess another's secrets! I also make a claim to humble intelligence enough to have guessed your wishes in this matter, but, alas, I can be of no service to your majesty. I grieve to add, neither can anyone else be of service"

"What? She is dead!"

"Oh, not so bad as that But she is gone."

"Gone—where?"

"To her own country—back to that America of which your majesty has heard her boast so freely."

"How do you know this, my friend?" demanded Michael.

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Wants Other Suffering Women To Know It.

Murfreesboro, Tenn. — "I have wanted to write to you for a long time to tell you what your wonderful remedies have done for me I was a sufferer from female weakness and displacement and I would have such tired, worn out feelings, sick headaches and dizzy spells. # ATHENA Knit Underwear is greatly appreciated by active women, especially by those who shop much, ride, walk, golf, dance or motor—because it is tailored to fit—does fit and is therefore most comfortable. Above all it adds greatly to the appearance of the gown.

Sloping Shoulders and Sleeves
Conform to the shoulders without wrinkling under arms.

Perfected Shoulder-Stay
Keeps garment from stretching across the shoulder, and holds sleeve in place.

Curved Armhole
Brings arm seams to the natural curve of the shoulder and holds garment snugly and smoothly up under arm, doing away with unnecessary cloth.

Three-Cornered Gusset
Is so shaped as to relieve the usual strain at the thigh. Insures greater comfort and longer wear.

Low-Neck Sleeveless Suit
Just as a woman is fuller across the bust than the back, so this garment is made with extra fullness in front.

Patent Seat
This consists of a plait on each side of the back, instead of extra cloth in the middle where it causes discomfort. Always stays closed and allows sufficient room, sitting or standing.

SUGGESTION TO WOMEN

Who are "Just Ready to Drop."

When you are "just ready to drop," when you feel so weak that you can hardly drag yourself about—and because you have not slept well, you get up as tired next morning as when you went to bed, you need help. You can get it just as Mrs. Maxwell did. She says:—

"I keep house for my little family of three, and become completely run down. I was weak, nervous and could not sleep; finally I was unable to do my house-work. A friend asked me to try Vinol. I did so and improved rapidly. It toned up my system, I regained my strength, am no longer nervous, sleep well and do all my housework." Mrs. J. C. Maxwell, Montgomery, Ala.

There is no secret about Vinol. It owes its success to the medicinal extractives of fresh cod livers, tonic iron and beef peptone, the oldest and most famous body-building and strength-creating tonics

So many letters like the above are continually coming to our attention, that we freely offer to return the money paid for Vinol in every case where it fails to give satisfaction.—Hirsch Drug Co., Monessen, Pa.
